DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Newly submitted claims 9-131 are directed to inventions that are independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons:

Newly submitted claims 9-131 are directed to a number of methods and devices that would have been restricted away from the claims that were originally prosecuted in the previous office action. For example, new claims 86-95 are directed to a microfluidic device. Originally prosecuted claims 1-8 are directed to methods that can be performed in a microtiter plate and thus does not require the microfluidic device of new claims 86-95.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 9-131 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cottingham (US Patent 5,795,748) for the reasons of record.

4. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cottingham (US Patent 5,948,673) for the reasons of record.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 7/9/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to both Cottingham references, Applicants argue that Cottingham fails to disclose or suggest a method which comprises loading a sample portion into a sample chamber, in which if the sample portion contains at least a single molecule of a target nucleic acid, the sample portion would attain a detectable concentration of the target nucleic acid within a portion of the sample chamber after a single round of amplification. Applicant also assert that Cottingham uses a sample chamber that can only hold 20 microliters and that amplified product from one target molecule would not be detectable.

Applicant's arguments have been considered but are not convincing. Contrary to Applicant's arguments, Cottingham does teach the instant methods. As pointed out in the description of both Cottingham reference in the previous office action, each of the steps recited in the instant methods are disclosed in either Cottingham reference. Samples are loaded into sample wells containing reagents for amplification, amplification takes place, and amplification products are detected. With respect to Applicant's assertion that amplified product could not be detected in the 20 microliter volume of Cottingham, Applicants have not provide any experimental evidence to support such an assertion.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
